JAPAN'S WORLD STATUS UNHURT BY EARTHQUAKE

Will Proceed to Rule Far East, Belief.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Japan's position in world affairs will be only negligibly affected by the economic losses resulting from the earthquake and by the burden of rehabilitation, in the opinion of officials here, who have made a special study of the far eastern situation.

Japan, they are convinced, will move steadily forward to domination of eastern Asia and the western Pacific, which domination already is within its grasp, and in the process of realizing that aim will find slight embarrassment in the reconstruction undertaking at home.

Whether relations between Japan and the United States would be permanently influenced by the period of good feeling produced by America's spontaneous response to the need of aid and Japanese gratitude there is a question on which there is varied speculation.

A West Coast Farad.
It is noted that a well developed movement to exclude the admission of all criminals to the United States is on foot in the United States. The movement was subscribed. The Japanese recent this proposed discrimination and accordingly would not permit their sense of gratitude to interfere with the election of measures designed to deter the United States from barring out all Japanese.

In other quarters it is predicted that the quick and abundant relief of the earthquake victims by the United States will produce a profound and lasting effect upon the Japanese people, and that their government will find it cannot count on public support at an attitude unduly critical of America.

Tokio reports indicate that the Japanese were greatly impressed by the fact that the first aid was brought by the American navy, which they had been taught to believe they never would behold except in battle array.

Revered by U. S. Yessels.
The American warships even preceded the Japanese navy in getting relief to the scene and an American destroyer, No. 117, made two trips to Tokyo, bringing "refugees away" from the shattered, smoking capital after the Japanese naval authorities had refused to risk a ship on the perilous undertaking.

Admiral Anderson, commander of the American Asiatic fleet, acted, it is said, without awaiting orders from Washington. When he heard of the disaster he ordered all ships full speed to Tokyo and, in command of the American government shipping and supplies at Cebu and Shanghai.

The navy rendered this service expected up to a year and a half ago to be fighting Japan not earlier than 1924, nor later than 1927. The information in possession of our navy department indicated that Japan was preparing to make war some time between those years, and it was not until that the preparation was aimed at the United States.

What Harding Achieved.
The name of the Washington arms conference, halting naval competition, saving Japan a free hand in the far east, and aligning the United States and Great Britain in affairs in the Pacific. That changed the situation and everybody said the war had been averted.

If Japan were still in a mood to war with America it would not be deterred by the earthquake disaster, in the opinion of the best informed officials here. In fact of life and wealth the world war was a far greater disaster to numerous countries than the earthquake, yet such losses were not deterred Italy, Greece, Russia, Finland, Yugoslavia, Turkey, Rumania, Hungary and France from making either war or preparations for war.

Incidentally, it now appears that the estimate the reconstruction cost is less than $1,000,000,000, less than one cent of the national wealth.

Record Broken Again with 259 Miles an Hour
Missed Field, N. Y., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Lieut. L. H. Sander, naval aviator, reached a speed of 259 miles an hour in a Wright plane this afternoon. This is the fastest time within a mile of the ground for traveling through space has been broken.

MONROE DOCTRINE WORTH MORE THAN ARTICLE X-CHILE

GENEVA, Sept. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The famous article X of the covenant of the League of Nations, which was the main subject of debate in the United States senate when the question of American adherence was before it, furnished renewed interest today before the commission on amendments to the covenant when Senator Alvarez, the Chilean diplomat, presented a powerful defense of the Monroe Doctrine, which he declared was worth more to the American states than article X of the covenant.

There were many references to former President Wilson and the United States during the discussion, which eventually was adjourned. The French delegate asked that all make haste slowly, as he deemed article X the heart of the covenant, which should be changed, if at all, with the greatest care.

OUTLAW STRIKE STOPS PRESSES IN N. Y.; NO PAPERS

New York, Sept. 18, 1 & 2.—(Franklin.)—An unexpected strike of newspaper men in an unexpected strike at midnight. The Daily News, American and Tribune had already printed their first editions, but the Times and Herald were caught without any ink, and the pressmen were in session at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

The grievances of the pressmen are clouded. Their contract expired last night and there was an agreement to submit to arbitration. But at a secret meeting of the union it was voted to strike at midnight. The walkout followed without any warning to the publishers.

In some of the offices the strikers stripped plates from presses before they walked out in order to prevent publication by "substitute" crews. The strike is unauthorized by the National Union, and pressmen from other cities may be brought in.

HUSBAND WOMAN; SHE KNEW IT NOT

Widow Tells of 40 Years of "Marriage."

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The weird story of William Taylor, whose death here Friday revealed that she had not known that her husband was not a man.

Mrs. Taylor was located this morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Maurice Ames, at Virgona.

"I never knew he was a woman," she said.

Tells of Platonic Relations.
She then related an amazing story of a relationship super-platonic, of a friendship that, because of its nature, was more than platonic.

"His life was mine and my life was his," she declared this strange woman whose widowhood turned in a moment to spinsterhood.

But in all those years, I never knew he was a woman. We never lived as other married folks do. We never wanted children. I do not think we ever talked about it. All that I remember is that we were together every day and were nice to each other. I liked Willie a lot. Love? I don't know just what that means, but we got along pretty well together. The only time he ever was mean to me was when he would tell me not to talk to his neighbors about her home life. Once he threatened to kill me if I did.

SIXTY BLOCKS IN UNIVERSITY CITY LEFT IN RUINS

Forest Blazes Menace Other Towns.

Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fire, sweeping over the hills east of Berkeley this afternoon, laid waste to the Cragmont and Euclid avenue districts, destroying at least five hundred residences in an area sixty blocks in extent, in one of the choicest residential sections of the city.

No lives are known to have been lost, although two University of California students were seen to plunge into a vortex of fire when the roof of a house upon which they had climbed collapsed.

Hundreds of frenzied residents fled from the burning area as the fire burned its way through the closely settled district and eventually died down to a smoldering ring of flame encompassing the entire area which it had devastated. The section was a smoky waste.

Fraternity Houses Destroyed.

Many fraternity and sorority houses of the University of California were destroyed, as were the homes of several instructors, although the institution's structures themselves were not harmed.

The fraternity houses destroyed included Tau Kappa Sigma, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Kappa Sigma, and Theta Chi. A series of forest and brush fires destroyed were the Zeta Tau Alpha, Delta Zeta, and Alpha Sigma Delta.

On Hearst avenue flames used dynamite to check the flames that had approached the residence of President Wilbur of the university. Among the residences burned were those of Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president emeritus of the university, and John Howard Taylor, architect.

The fire which so greatly damaged this city of 40,000 persons was but one of a series of forest and brush fires which today caused destruction in all sections of California. More than twelve counties were affected. The fires are in all sections of the state.

Continued extremely hot and dry weather was followed by high winds which are spreading the flames over thousands of acres of timber land, threatening many towns.

The Berkeley fire started in the brush in the hills of Contra Costa county early this morning.

At 5 o'clock the flames had reached the crest of the ridge upon the eastern slope of which resided many of Berkeley's wealthiest citizens. A host of volunteer fire fighters was at work in an effort to extinguish the flames but a high wind sweeping toward them hampered their efforts and they made little headway.

Within an hour the conflagration had eaten its way into the outer fringe of homes on the hillside and was spreading in three directions.

The Berryman reservoir district was wiped out and the flames progressed down the slope toward the bay and north toward the university.

San Francisco Sends Aid.
Hurry calls were sent out for volunteers to fight the fire and all available fire fighting apparatus in nearby cities was mobilized and hurried to the scene. San Francisco sent over the bay a large amount of apparatus, but Oakland, which adjoins Berkeley, was unable to aid because all its fire fighters were needed to combat a blaze in that city.

For four hours between 2 and 6 o'clock this afternoon the flames raged virtually unchecked despite the efforts of several hundred firemen and volunteers and scores of householders.

OUTLAWRY HAS FLOUTED LAW, DEVER SAYS

When Mayor Dever was told the details of the killing of "George" Moeghan and "Sport" Bucher in the Torrio-O'Donnell beer war he said: "It is a terrible, terrible thing. It is a sad condition which ought to command the attention of every law-enforcing agency in the city to the fact that their every energy would be directed to cleaning out these nests of organized outlaws and murderers."

This brutal murder tonight is another breaking out into violence of that lawless spirit which seems to pervade the community and which can be combated only by a relentless warfare of those pledged to uphold the law.

Law and Order Perfected.
"Until the murders of Jerry O'Connor and the murderers of these two men have been apprehended and punished and the illegal traffic for control of which they battle has been suppressed the dignity of the law and the average man's respect for it is imperiled, and every officer of the law and every enforcing agency should lay aside other duties and join in the common cause—a restoration of law and order."

"The police will follow this case to a finish as they do all others. This guerrilla war between hangers, rum runners, and illicit beer peddlers can and will be crushed."

"As I have said previously, I am not in total sympathy with the Volstead act, but I am heartily and unalterably in sympathy with the rigid enforcement of every law on the books."

Must Be Law Abiding.

"If there is ever to be any modification of the Volstead act it will come only after the people show themselves to be law abiding."

"I am just as sure that this miserable traffic with its toll of human life and morals can be stamped out as I am that I am mayor, and I am not going to flinch for a minute. The beer support I am getting in this campaign is from the reputable brewers, who are opposed to the present kind of beer business and are desperately against having their names associated with thieves, crooked policemen and beer runners."

RUSE SAVES HIS RING IN BATTLE WITH BURGLAR

Finding he was losing out in his struggle with a Negro burglar, Robert O'Ster, 41 years old, of 1231 Grand boulevard, tried a bit of strategy and won. Other encountered the intruder just after entering his apartment last night and grappled with him. After a few minutes the Negro began to get the better of the battle and ordered O'Ster to give up a diamond ring he was wearing.

"All right, then, go and get it," said O'Ster, tossing the ring across the room. The Negro dropped to his knees to find it and O'Ster grabbed his gun from a nearby drawer. He fired three shots.

The burglar escaped without the ring, but police believe he was wounded. Only one of the three bullets could be found in the room.

WOMAN PATIENT FLEES HOSPITAL; FOUND IN LAKE

Shortly after 8 o'clock last night Mrs. Amy L. Pletsch, a nerve patient, disappeared from the Presbyterian hospital. Four hours later members of the coast guard took her body from the lake near the foot of Ontario street. She was well dressed and wore three pieces of jewelry—one of which, a gold watch, was engraved with the initials "A. L. P." She was identified at Shute's undertaking rooms, 745 North Clark street, by the nurse who attended her at the hospital.

Mrs. Pletsch was the wife of Walter O. Pletsch of 1650 Ashland avenue, Evanston. At the hospital it was said she had been despondent for some time.

Two Men Do Shooting.
According to witnesses, the shooting was done by two men who sat in a green touring car driven by a third man. The roadster in which Moeghan and Bucher were riding was proceeding south on Laflin street. The men were probably on their way home for supper. Moeghan lived at 7133 South Laflin street and Bucher at 2333 South Laflin street.

Moeghan, who was driving, stopped the car at the north drive of Garnish boulevard and then crossed, coming to another stop beside the greenway which extends through the center of the thoroughfare and just at the edge of the south. This move evidently had been carefully calculated by the occupants of the murder car, which had been parked in the north drive of the boulevard and pursued around back of the other car just as it made its second stop.

BULLETS RIDDLE O'DONNELL AIDS ON BOULEVARD

Roundup of Gang Leaders Made.

Shotguns and pistols wrote another chapter in the O'Donnell-Torrio beer running feud last night when "George" Moeghan, an O'Donnell agent, and his companion, "Spot" Bucher, were killed, riddled with bullets and slugs from a passing machine as they sat in a Ford roadster at Laflin street and Garfield boulevard.

Within half an hour of the shooting a man hunt, probably unequalled in the history of the police department for intensity, was being personally led throughout the south side by Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins and Chief of Detectives Hughes. More than 100 uniformed men and silver squads from the detective bureau and Englewood and New City stations were working under orders to pick up every man known to be or suspected of being a beer runner.

McFall Again Taken.
Spurred on by an appeal by Mayor Dever for every right minded citizen to aid the authorities in stamping out beer running and its accompanying thuggery, the police rounded up a dozen or more with lightning speed. Long before midnight "Steve" O'Donnell, John Bucher, brother of one of the victims, and Daniel McFall, who was arrested a few days ago, were taken to the New City station, early this morning and questioned regarding the shooting by Chief of Detectives Hughes and Deputy Superintendent Zimmer.

Expect More Shootings.
Another killing in the beer war had been expected, but it was thought the next victim would be a member of the Torrio gang, against whom the O'Donnell faction had sworn vengeance for the murder of "Jerry" O'Connor in Joseph Klepa's saloon at 5534 South Lincoln street on the night of Sept. 7. Rumors were circulated during the day that the O'Donnells were "out to get 'Red' Golden," alleged to have been a member of the gang that killed O'Connor.

A .38 caliber revolver was found on the floor of the dressing car and Moeghan's pockets were crammed full of fifty caliber bullets when his body was picked up.

"It's plainly a beer runners' feud and I am glad no honest citizen was killed," said Chief Collins. "It was just a case of these men being out to get another man and the other gang beat them to it."

Dictatorship Imposes Rule of Iron.

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.
[Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.]

In four days the new military government of Spain, after Premier Muga's example, by a show of power and heavy arms, has exterminated all other Communist doctrines of disunity which have been planted here since 1918 and have flourished profusely since the weak governments.

International Communists of every kind are being driven from Barcelona and other hotbeds of syndicalism in Spain by the hundreds without a single hand having been laid as yet against them. The money that has been poured into Spain by the Third International at Moscow can be counted a dead loss.

The assassination of Premier Dato, cardinal of Saragossa, and 400 emigrants in Barcelona show how Red activity in Spain has flourished.

Objects of New Rule.
The new military government has as its principal objectives, as follows: First, to exterminate syndicalism and other Communist doctrines; second, to crush the separatist movement in Catalonia and Basque provinces;

Third, to prosecute a victorious campaign in the Spanish zone in Morocco; fourth, to establish an honest, efficient government;

Fifth, to make guilty politicians as well as officers suffer for the big Mea culpa.

The determination of President No River and his government to meet the law is easily the most important plank in his platform. Action includes a campaign against syndicalism, because the separatist movement has its roots in communistic ideas.

Fascist Army of 450,000.
Gen. Rivera today announced that he is going to call on the country to form a "Gran Somaten" or militia. After the Fascist black units in Italy, of 450,000 men. King Alfonso today signed a decree authorizing the Gran Somaten.

Although the dictator declares sharp differences exist between the Spanish and Italian Fascists, he is willing to let the Gran Somaten closely on the Italian example, even adopting their system, like the black shirts. He intends to protect the "established interests" of the country by this 450,000 man, responsible to him alone.

AWAITING AN OPENING

mas, former premier of Spain, sent an open letter to President Primo Rivera today, in which he stated:

"Observing your declarations in the press, according to which you intend to bring me to criminal trial for not having dismissed Don Santiago Alba from the government, I pray you to give the orders for this trial to commence immediately. I do not care whether it is a military or civil tribunal. My conscience is tranquil concerning my conduct. Please note that I am at my villa, Alai, at Iruñ."

Alba to Stay Away.
President Rivera received a telegram from former Foreign Minister Alba this morning saying he did not think he would ever come back to Spain. Presdent Rivera immediately answered, asking Sefior Alba at least to surrender the automobile in which he fled across the French frontier, as it belongs to the electro-technical military school at San Sebastian.

The directorate today announces an energetic program of reform, which is enthusiastically acclaimed by the entire press. New ministers will be chosen in a few days from among the best men in Spain in their lines and they will take over the government when they prove their capacity.

As a measure of economy tens of thousands of government employees will be discharged, 2,000 former ministers will lose their pensions, and salaries will be reduced all along the line.

SERBS MOBILIZE TO STRIKE ARMY FROM BULGARIA

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Sept. 17.—[Tribune Radio.]

Macedonian irredentist bands under leadership of Todor Alexandroff, reported to number 5,000, are concentrated within a couple of hours' march of the Jugo-Slavian frontier.

Serb troops are massing at Nish and along the railway towards Tashbrod, and airplanes are observing the movements of the Bulgars. One airplane flying over Bulgar territory was shot at but not hit.

U. S. Hears of Plot.
The Tampa tonight states that the Washington government has information concerning arms secretly shipped to Bulgaria via the Black sea "from certain Mediterranean ports."

These munitions comprise 250,000 rifles, 600 pieces of artillery, including fifty batteries of heavy caliber, 4,000 machine guns, and 30,000 automatic rifles.

The Tribune learns that the allies suspect Gen. Lascarof, chief of the Bulgar army, of having secret communications with Todor Alexandroff, and it is rumored that plans have been drawn for Bulgar regulars to assist any coup the Macedonian comitadjis may attempt.

Tie to Italy?
The irredentists seek to strike Jugo-Slavia when Belgrade's attention is occupied with Italy over the Plume problem, is the report, and the leaders of the comitadjis are assuring the man that Premier Mussolini is impatient at their inaction and threatens to cut off subsidies for the purchase of arms unless there is quick action in Macedonia.

Belgrade today warned Sofia that Jugo-Slav troops will cross the frontier into Bulgarian territory unless the comitadjis raids into Jugo-Slavia cease. The Sofia government is protesting against what is termed the Jugo-Slav ultimatum, and Bulgar diplomatic representatives in the allied capitals called on the foreign offices today, urging the entente powers to apply pressure on Belgrade to restrain any aggressive act toward Bulgaria.

From the Jugo-Slav headquarters the Tribune learns that Belgrade is in possession of secret plans showing that Bulgaria intended to invade Macedonia on Sept. 10 and then postponed the date until Sept. 20.

Carried Gun in Fear of Blackmail, Plea in Court

Arraigned in night court for carrying a revolver, Girardo Sipari of 324 West Oak street told Judge O'Connell that every month—about the same time I get my gas bill—he has been receiving a blackmail letter threatening his life if he did not give up $1,000.

The judge assessed him $300 and then suspended the fine. Sipari's wife and nine children occupied first row seats.

PIONEERING in COFFEE

BACK in 1864 a firm set out to supply New England with good coffee. But they didn't stop there. As the country grew, they grew. When a railroad was pushed out and a town suddenly or slowly built up, Chase & Sanborn would be sure to entrust the sale of their coffees and teas to the very best groceryman they could find.

Then, about 1880, they originated the idea of packing coffee in hermetically sealed tins—that was to keep good coffee good.

To-day, wherever you go, in cities and villages that once might have been frontier posts or villages, you will find a certain bond among discriminating coffee drinkers. It is the goodness of Chase & Sanborn Seal Brand Coffee. It is packed in sealed tin cans—never in bulk.

MORE DEAD IN AUTO ACCIDENTS; 7 HURT IN CRASH

Truck Smashes Into Side of Street Car.

Four persons died yesterday from injuries received in automobile accidents, bringing the total of motor deaths in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 483. In addition, seven persons were severely injured and numerous others shaken and bruised when a motor truck, laden with cement, crashed into a street car at Grand avenue and La Salle street.

Panicked passengers in the street car fought to extricate themselves. The truck ripped its way into the side of the car, tearing away seating, glass, and seats. The driver, Herman McClintock, 433 South Ridgeway, Oak Park, was arrested and charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

McClintock said he was driving east on Grand avenue and at La Salle street a small touring car cut in front of his truck. He turned to the left to avoid striking the automobile, he said, and crashed into the street car. The truck was owned by William Lehman, Westmont, Ill. The car was severely injured.

North Lowe, 2444 South Sangamon street, Evanston, 5620 West Grand avenue, Evanston, 1232 Hollywood avenue, Oak Park, 14 West Ohio street, Mrs. Joseph Sureski, 2340 Augusta street, Mrs. Elizabeth Beatty, 825 West Jackson boulevard, Charles Ringold, 628 Barry avenue.

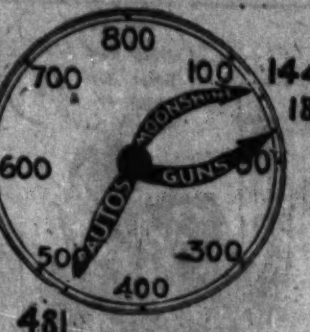

Truck Farmer Killed.
Carl Deu, a truck farmer of Niles Center, was instantly killed when the automobile he was driving was struck by an engine of the Chicago and North-western railroad. Deu was hurled seventy-five feet.

William Dehnert, 35 years old, 2324 North Ridgeway avenue, a motorman, died in the Montrose Avenue hospital of injuries sustained several days ago when he was struck by an automobile driven by Olaf Aana, 5404 Grace street. Aana, who had been charged with assault with a deadly weapon, will be re-arrested, police said. Dehnert was struck as he alighted from his car at the end of the Irving Park boulevard.

Edward Delaney, 66, died in the County hospital from injuries received last Saturday when he was struck by a yellow cab at West Madison and Halsted streets.

An unidentified man, poorly dressed, was killed at Monroe and Desplaines streets by a truck driven by Joseph Rudinsky, 1706 Ruble street. Rudinsky

Puffed Rice—the morning dainty

Shot from Guns

Steam exploded grains

Quaker Puffed Rice and Quaker Puffed Wheat are made by Professor Anderson's great process. The grains are sealed in guns, then revolved for an hour in fearful heat. When the guns are shot, over 125 million steam explosions are caused in every kernel.

Airy, flaky—8 times normal size

The grains come out as airy globules, thin, porous, crisp and toasted. The fearful heat gives them a nut-like flavor. And the broken food cells fit all the food elements to digest and feed.

No other cereal dainties in existence compare with Puffed Grains in delights.

Minerals—vitamines—bran

Quaker Puffed Wheat in milk forms a supreme dish for children. Wheat supplies 12 minerals which growing children must have. It supplies the bran they need. And milk is rich in vitamins.

Serve Puffed Grains morning, noon and night. Make whole grains tempting to the whole family.

Serve with cream and sugar. Mix them in every dish of fruit. Crisp and douse with melted butter for hungry children in the afternoon. Millions of children are better fed because their mothers thus make whole-grain foods enticing.

IN DEFENSE OF THE CONSTITUTION.

If our system of popular education were what it should be, there would be no more call for a deliberate celebration of the constitution than for a deliberate celebration of the law of supply and demand or the law of gravitation. We do not mean by this that the plan of government and principles embodied in our great political document should not be open to discussion and criticism no matter how well founded our people might be. But this most natural and effectively would take place in the course of our public affairs. A special celebration of the constitution, therefore, is not for debate, but for a reminder, and it is the expression of an intelligent belief that a considerable part of our people need a better acquaintance with their political heritage and need to give it more thought as a basis for their political action.

This may be placed among the devices which we in bustling America invent for the purpose of offsetting or correcting our tendency to be heedless of sacred things, or of possessions, we are forgetting, or of simple general interests that are being overlooked because they are so obvious. Who but we would have a "Mother's Day"? And we have a tree day, a fire prevention day, a flag day, and in different communities days to remind us of various things. We have no doubt the dentists would approve a teeth day or the hair dressers a hair day to remind us all of the indubitable importance of proper attention to our teeth or hair. We recognize the value of these reminders, though naturally if the list grows too long the profit will be dissipated.

But constitution week is of value in giving opportunity for the consideration, as it were, of a scattered and unorganized but most important reaction against certain tendencies in our political and social thought and action. Constitution week is an effort to redoubt the conception which many thoughtful Americans feel are being clouded, disregarded or forgotten in our generation. It is not merely a celebration, but an attempt to initiate a process of education and of reformation in what is fundamental in the American scheme. Washington, in his memorable appeal, addressed to the men who had met to frame the constitution of the new republic, said: "Let us raise a standard to which the wise and honest can repair." There is a strong sense among thoughtful men and women that there should be a rallying to that standard in our time and a more effective effort to bring the reason of the American people to its protection, lest we lose by heedlessness and ignorance the legacy of freedom left us through the wisdom and sacrifice of our predecessors.

No one who studies the history of the last half century will deny there are currents running powerfully, if sometimes erratically, counter to the original principles enunciated by the founders in the constitution and bill of rights. In fact, there have been such currents from the very beginning, and the constitution has had to resist them. But with a system of popular education which has slighted the task of instruction in this field, with millions of foreigners, received into full citizenship, who have the most superficial knowledge of our political philosophy and very different traditions and habits of political thought, and with the conferring of the ballot upon women, there can be no reasonable doubt that the American scheme is open to innovation as it never has been.

There is utter disregard among proponents of reform—especially of reform intended to accomplish some humanitarian or moral betterment—for fundamental American principles and for the orderly and well considered plan of our federal system. Any plausible proposal of change is likely to be accepted without adequate consideration because it is not checked by encountering a habit of thought formed in the knowledge of American principles and the experience from which they were drawn. In consequence much may be given up and will be given up without our people knowing what is given up; much that would be firmly retained if it had been clearly held. There is more danger to our institutions in this process of unconscious surrender and infringement than in any threat of revolution.

THE BATTLE OF THE CONTINENTS.

If Luis Angel Firpo, the wild bull of the Pampas—and we say it without any qualification—is sufficiently satisfied with the beating, the $150,000, the international fame, and the chance for more of each which he won while losing his battle with our Neanderthal Dempsey, we doubt that many North Americans will complain. Certainly those who wagered 4 to 1 upon the champion, and collected, will make no protest. The short ends and some of the Argentine's compatriots may feel otherwise.

One thing the battle did. It justified itself as a spectacle if not an sport. Chicago business men, who chanced to be in New York in time to witness it, insist that it was worth the money. Chicago boxers, who went more frankly to see the big show, speak more expertly and with equal certainty that the best man won. Their judgment is not that of polite sportsmanship but of effective and businesslike fighting.

But through this unanimity of opinion there is arising from day to day the charges that all was not as it should have been. Capable observers tell us that numerous rules of the New York boxing commission were transgressed, and always to the advantage of the champion. First we are told, and pictures verify the statement, that Dempsey stood over Firpo after each knockdown, ready to crush him again when he arose, instead of going to a neutral corner to await resumption of hostilities, as prescribed by the commission. We are told that Dempsey struck Firpo after the bell, and again hit him on the breakaway. We are told that Dempsey was improperly helped back into the ring after he had been knocked through the ropes. We are told that Dempsey scored his first knockdown while the referee was distracting Firpo's attention. We are told that certain parts of the moving pictures which would verify these alleged infractions of the rules have been deleted.

It isn't nice, and it isn't sportsmanlike. It will not improve our commercial or social relations with South America. But the fact remains that Dempsey proved his superiority beyond question in that brief second round, and if Firpo and his adherents will not be too puerile to may advocate holding the return match in London, with a British referee.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN.

A week having passed since Mike Boyle's latest failure to obtain his release from jail in Waukegan through habeas corpus proceedings, we fear the public will begin to wonder at the sudden quiet which has descended upon him and his activities. The last that was heard, his counsel was about to set out in search of a "hard shelled" judge who might free him. Apparently no judge sufficiently "hard shelled" to fly in the face of the record could be found, or the search has been abandoned.

In any event, Mike is quiet in jail. There are no more daily repetitions of the events which put him there. It is not being explained to the courts and, incidentally, to the voters of Illinois that Mike was sentenced to serve six months for contempt because he refused to testify as to what he knew about alleged bribing of the jury which acquitted Gov. Small of embezzling a fortune in state funds while treasurer, the same being the difference between the 5 per cent interest paid by the packers on $10,000,000 of state money and the 2 per cent interest turned in by Small.

It seems that Mike's silence in jail is as important as was his silence before the grand jury investigating the bribery charges. And the silence has descended upon him in jail just as it did in the grand jury room. In the grand jury room he explained that it was because he might incriminate himself. In jail, or before any court, seeking freedom on a writ of habeas corpus, it is logical to believe that it is because he might incriminate some one else.

Then again, Mike is a thrifty soul. Perhaps he has discovered that his earnings powers while keeping silence in jail are as great as when going about other features of his business outside, and his overhead is greatly reduced. Perhaps he has become convinced of the truth of the old proverb that speech is silver; silence is golden.

EUROPE TURNS TO AUTOCRACY.

Another dictatorship in Berlin. The fashion spreads. Mr. Seligson in Berlin quotes the phrase "The Mussolinization of Europe," and says it alarms German republicans, obliged to digest as well as they can the dictatorial measures of the new chancellor. But it was Lenin and his group who set the style. Mussolini learned something in that school, though his objects, fortunately, are different. What they have in common is dictatorship. Hungary and Bulgaria have enjoyed dictatorships since the war ended and their present governments have something dictatorial in their character. Now we have a constitutional government brusquely set aside in Spain, where a military chieftain, backed by bayonets, tells the ministers to pack up and get out. Another monarch is respectfully requested to sign on the dotted line and promptly does so.

This proceeding must be viewed with emotions of pride and of irony in the Latin American republics. In a century that game has been played often from the Rio Grande to Tierra del Fuego, but in recent years it has declined in favor, and just as it is about to disappear, Mother Country takes it up. A sad example to youthful nations. Yet the vogue of dictatorship is not difficult to understand. It will not wane while the political, social, and economic affairs of all Europe are in a flux. The mind of Europe is still in a whirl, rather from what followed the war than from the war, and the instinct is to seize upon something that is firm. The more intelligent classes which have something to lose, spiritually and materially, in the submergence of the old order, drag together, and, as men in great peril always do, seek a single, unadmitted leadership. In such crises, whether they appear suddenly or are the culmination of a long period of decay, parliamentarism does not work very well. A ship at sea is no place for republicanism. Danger is the mother of autocracy and sometimes the grandmother of despotism. It is only a land of settled government which can enjoy a "freedom broadening down from precedent to precedent." When the tempest strikes a captain takes command.

But back of these platitudes lies a more serious consideration which must interest us in America especially. Prior to each crisis which has brought forth a dictatorship parliamentary government has failed to control events. It is easy to understand its failure in a country like Russia, but Italy and Germany have been saturated in republican ideas for centuries and have had some experience in forms of self-government. We are not disposed to despise them, but it might be hinted that neither people are in fact prepared for self-government. A crisis might ask: "Are any people at this stage of human development?" We should say the British people have proved themselves self-governable and also the American, though Oklahoma and some other communities in this commonwealth are not precisely evidence to that effect.

CAFFER'S BUSINESS AGAINST MELANCHOLY.
(Harford (Conn.) Courant.)

Senator Caffer of Kansas, who has been doing the melancholy for the farmers for years past to his own political advantage and to the discontent of that important element of our population, is called to order by the Wall Street Journal, which publishes the following quotation from Mr. Caffer's assistant publisher to the salesman for disposing of his various products:

"I want to suggest yet once again that all salesmen for the House of Caffer keep close to the favorable news which is developing. With advancing security markets which will soon become evident, better prices, the largest crop in years, and abundance of grain in the pastures, huge hay crops, satisfactory dairy and poultry prices, abnormally big sales by the mail order houses, and an improved psychological attitude on the part of the people generally with respect to buying, we have some real sales arguments."

This should be circulated among the farmers and they might get a new idea of the sincerity of their melancholy friend.

—ONE OF THE ADDRESS.

A. R. LAMB (Ames (Ia.) Golf and Country Club) is the winner of the E. L. T. trophy with the lowest average net for eight games played within the time of contest. His seventh and eight scores, respectively, were 84 and 81. . . . None of the others succeeded, in spite of the week of grace permitted because of the rain-soaked course in the Middle-West, in shooting golf low enough to hold to the fine average maintained by everybody in the first six games.

UNNECESSARY as well as gratuitous, perhaps, is the suggestion that there will be more good golf for the look-on-at Flossmoor today, tomorrow, and Thursday than at Friday's semi-finals or Saturday's final, regardless of the identity or skill of the last four. The 1923 champion and his runner-up will be at least as active and eager between now and Thursday's twilight as thereafter.

(Translated from a letter, via facsimile.)
FOR SALE—NEW POLY CHINESE JUNGLE FLOOR—Lamp. Summary 1810.

BOSTON'S celebrated and third-rate orchestra is to try another conductor, Serge Koussevitzky, whose real distinction in music is that he is a virtuoso on the double-bass, which we've heard him play with the ease and grace of Casals with the 'cello.

GENERAL belief in the primacy of the Boston Symphony has survived by a decade or more the loosening of its grip on a place among the first-eight organizations. Muck drilled the band into a machine-like expression of his talent, which was, at its best, cheap showmanship. When he was pulled off the job, the machine could function for nobody else.

TO THE PORTS
(It is estimated that thirty thousand poets in the Mississippi Valley are seeking publishers for their special imaginings—Newspaper Item.)

When a poet spins a volume
Than the mystic moonlight
[Many readers of this column
Will uphold the present writer];
When a singer sings a ballad
Would the stately heights attain.
Disregarding the hiatus
Underneath his tousled mane;
When a bard of zero rating
[Nowadays they come in herds];
Sets his lyre a-vibrating
Filling words and words on words;
When he burns the tongueless taper
Putting puffs down on paper,
Then more puffs—without hard—
He will certainly inspire me.
But he'll do it only once;
Nevermore will he fatigue me
With his mediocre stunts!

BEING both international and cosmopolitan all over the place, the Hearst papers, running Raquel Miller's picture, tell the world that she is "the pretty Spanish dancing sensation"; and if she can dance two steps, we will eat the light leading to the Wright flagstaff.

SHE happens to be a gifted singing-actress—a true exemplar of what the French call a damesse; and within her limits, she is one of the world's notable performers. Her songs and story-plays have mainly to do with the reaction of young women who have been "betrayed," as you say, and elsewhere put upon or done in. . . . If she has learned English since we heard her, three years ago, her chances of success here are fair.

SCIENCE BACKS THE POP

At the critical moment in the seventh inning does it do any good for the mob to rise in its might and ram the pop bottle down the throat of any amount of possible ragging make the popping pitcher lose control of his curve? Or can you "bob" the Babe Ruth into flailing on three wide ones? This is a question which is worthy of the thought of professors.

Prof. Laird of the University of Wyoming has responded. Let the uproarious fan pole his pop bottle high in the air and hear the decision of this umpire from the college halls. Prof. Laird made his tests on boys who were riding the goat in a fraternity.

A fraternal brother was set to deliver certain words, some of which required coordination and some steadiness. During a part of the test the prospect had the sympathetic attention of the brothers. During the other part these were withdrawn, and the prospect was left to his own devices. The tests showed that, raising had an effect on the men under each of the tests. Some stood raring better than others, but no one stood it perfectly.

Under razing some went completely to pieces and broke up the scoreboard or otherwise summed up the test. In fact, the tendency to spasmodic overdoing was rather frequently noted. In fact, the tendency to overdo was noted in the case of a baseball player in trying to knock the batter's head off, or boring a hole in the pitcher's mask, or throwing an extra wild pitch. The comments which followed were very wise and very steady control of the arm and body muscles.

Some men studied after the first rounds of razing. They seemed to steel themselves to bring their muscles under control. Others, however, other important factors are: Constant watch over the bowels, avoid worry, and get lots of fresh air.

Many readers will benefit by following your plan. Many will not, because they strain it is not a factor in many cases. You do not give your arm, but you are not young.

In hygiene, says a sovereign remedy.
WEIGHT FOR A GIRL.
G. M. R. writes:
1. What is the proper weight for a girl 15-16 feet 6 inches?
2. At what age does a person stop growing?
REPLY.
1. About 130 pounds is the average weight. In a young person the average weight is the best weight. In a person older than 30 the average weight is about twelve pounds higher than the best weight.
2. Stopping of growth in height, you are through. When it comes to height, the future holds much for you in inches, not so much in pounds.

WHO GRABES THE ALLEY?
Chicago, Sept. 13.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—The alley at the rear of my house is impassable for weeks (not exaggerated) after a heavy rain because of it being very low. It is impossible to get my car in and out of the garage because of the mud and water and on one occasion when I made the attempt I got "stuck" so badly it took several hours to get it out.

I have heard the city is compelled to grade all alleys of regulation width and I would like to know if this is so and to whom I should apply.
E. D. P.

Alley whose condition is complained of is an unimproved one and the remedy is an existing condition. There is no obligation on the part of the city to grade unimproved alleys. To improve condition, however, when the alley is very low and to reduce the expense for grading, alleys are spread and broken up into small lots. It is not possible to make a sewerage roadway when packed until such time as they can be paved.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY (FACSIMILES)
10 YEARS AGO TODAY (FACSIMILES)

Nearly two years have elapsed since the great fire. The circumstances are remembered by every one. After a long and severe winter, the city was struck by a great fire, which burned for several days, and destroyed much of the city's property. The fire was caused by a gas leak in a factory, and the fire spread rapidly, burning for several days.

Brooklyn, Mass., Sept. 17.—William H. Taft lost eight pounds in weight since laying down the cases which go with the office of president. There is nothing alarming in this, but the former president has dropped the weight by eating less and by abstaining from outdoor exercise and by refraining from gratifying the appetite.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Following dinner, Dr. C. C. Brown, a conference with Col. Roosevelt, Representative Hinchey of Illinois today landed a knockout punch on those statesmen who have been talking magnanimity of the Progressive and Republican parties.

Mr. Hinchey bore with him Col. Roosevelt's official approval of the organization of a Progressive congressional campaign committee directed on Monday.

He brought a statement from the editorial writing the Progressive to urge the largest kind of a fight in the first congressional district of West Virginia, where an election is to be held next month.

Brooklyn, Mass., Sept. 17.—A field of sixty-five qualified golfers will begin play over the County course here tomorrow in honor of the nineteenth annual open championship of the United States Golf Association. Never in the history of the game in this country has such a brilliant field assembled for the seventy-two hole tournament, including as it does the leading amateurs and professionals of the United States, with England and France also represented by leading stars of the first magnitude.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.
The belated civil ordinance, passed by the common June 3 last, which provides for a $7,000,000 improvement, was placed yesterday in the hands of the state supreme court. It got there by way of an appeal from a decision of Judge Cress in the County court. In one respect this action is unusual. It is a request for local public officials. It is an appeal in fact as well as in law. Hinchey does it is a request of the Supreme court that they point out what legal steps are necessary for Chicago to obtain a betterment bond between the South and Lake.

BOOMING AT THE EXPENSE OF DISABLED SERVICE MEN.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Advocates of government economy may become enlightened as to the methods pursued in reducing cost of government operation by calling at the United States veterans' bureau, tenth floor, Butler building.

"As a compensation man receiving the total of $5 per month for partial disability, I am called at regular intervals for examination. In answer to my last summons I reported and waited over three hours for an examination. Today I received another summons and I went early (9 a. m.) to avoid the rush."

I entered the office a winding line of impatient men resembling a "chow" line in France was awaiting attention, while a girl was murdering a typewriter, doing her utmost to serve those who did their bit for the country in time of need, but who had the work of several to do. At last one of the doctors came to her assistance and scurried through the indexes like a proficient file girl, indicating that he was accustomed to the work. After a long, tedious wait in line, I was called to return the following day and I noticed that the poor chap preceding me was likewise advised to return the following day, after stating that it was his third day away from work on this account.

As a matter of suggestion why not reduce the force further and other men myself will give up their compensation because they cannot stand any more of their time or their employer's time waiting for these examinations. It will be a sure way of reducing government expenditures.

Due justice should be given the doctors and office help, who are courteous and seem to be doing their best, but they are too few.

AN OVERSEAS MAN.
Chicago, Sept. 13.—I have a suggestion to offer to some rich philanthropist. What this overgrown town lacks is a free reference law library such as the Crerar library is for general and medical subjects. The public library should have law books but has practically none. It has very few medical books.

There are so many law novices and they get so technical and so far away from our ideas of right and wrong that an active man has no chance any more. Neither virtue nor intelligence will avail him but only "pull" or knowledge of the law.

The philanthropist who gives a law library will be blessed by both the righteous and the wicked, the lawyers and the laymen. One cannot charge a fee now for helping in a sale of real estate and some people say that it is against the law to fish with red worms. The law is in the hands of the wicked, before reaching the state line, may be guilty of a misdemeanor for the same offense that would be a felony if he had crossed the state line in violation of the Mann act. Thus the wicked are treated with the justice of the dark ages, and still they make more laws.

CHARLES R. MERVIN.
IN DEFENSE OF AMERICAN GIRLS.
Chicago, Sept. 14.—It seems to me that Claude Hinchey is making a grand stand play. I served with the American forces during the late war and let me tell you the American girls can earn their own living in lots of ways, but where she sells from. In fact, I believe more of the A. E. F. boys will back me in that statement, and just because the American girl has backbone enough to earn her own living is not saying she does not know how to keep house. I am still a bride and have had no training in home work, but at the same time I cook and serve and in my own meals and my friends honor me by bidding for dinner in my home.

IMMIGRANTS AND PILING.
Chicago, Sept. 11.—From Webster's new International Dictionary:
Immigrant—One who comes to a country for the purpose of permanent residence.

Pilgrim—One who journeys. A first settler or recent immigrant.
Mr. Bradshaw's distinction between the "immigrant" and "pilgrim" is very interesting, but Webster does not seem to uphold him in it. Let us, rather, say that there are desirable and undesirable immigrants. The immigrants of our time are grim forebears; time was a word for God-fearing, law-abiding, and honest men. More than half of the immigrants who have come here in the last thirty years are of low mentality, and hence, more of a hindrance than a help to our country. It is due to that type to increased. Let's insist on mental tests to determine the fitness of men on entry, and allow only the English citizens take the tests.

ITALY'S ACTION IN FIUME LEADS TO NEW CRISIS

Jugo-Slavia Expected to Make Protest.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]
PARIS, Sept. 17.—[Tribune Radio.]
—Diplomats here declared tonight that a serious situation has been created by the resignation of Vice President Depoli of the Fiume assembly and Premier Mussolini's nomination of Gen. Giardino as military governor of the disputed Adriatic port. The Italian premier's action comes at a critical period in the Italo-Jugo-Slav negotiations.

Mr. Depoli has been the nominal head of the Fiume government since President Zahella was elected, but actually the administration and control of the town and port has been in the hands of Italian troops rushed to Fiume to "restore order" when Gabriele D'Annunzio's volunteers ousted Sig. Zahella.

Despite the careful wording of Sig. Depoli's resignation, Fiume is being divided and commerce has been killed by deflecting all business to Trieste and Pola. This is clearly, although unwittingly, revealed in his letter of resignation.

The Jugo-Slav legation here expects a sharp protest from Belgrade over Premier Mussolini's selecting an Italian governor of Fiume, which is declared identical with the seizure of Carst.

Should the occupation of Fiume become an accomplished fact there would probably be a strong reaction of opinion at the expense of the Pasich cabinet on the ground of its too optimistic interpretation of preceding events and its failure to take the public into its confidence on all the developments of the situation.

SCORES LEAGUE'S INACTION

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.]
GENEVA, Sept. 17.—Charging the council of the league of nations with sidestepping the vital issue, Hjalmar Branting, Swedish delegate, delivered another broadside against the attitude of the league in the Italo-Greek dispute during the council session today.

Mr. Branting, after recalling the defiance of the Italian government, said: "To my regret, the council has not taken the opportunity of making a clear declaration on this matter. This attitude, dictated without doubt by laudable solicitude and stilling emotions, has, nevertheless, created a profound unrest among peoples who considered the activities of the league as an important guarantee to their security."

"I will add another observation. The occupation of Corfu was an act plainly in contradiction to the principles of the covenant and capable of creating a dangerous precedent."

Lord Robert Cecil defended the council's policy of the council. He explained that the league was a body for conciliation in all disputes, which must go through three phases—first, diplomatic discussion; second, arbitration; and third, investigation by the council of the league.

The denial of the league's competence, Lord Robert said, created a difficult situation.

At the close of the debate Sig. Salsandra of Italy asked for a delay until tomorrow to answer the declarations of Mr. Branting and Lord Robert.

BERKELEY FIRE RAZES 60 BLOCKS AND 500 HOMES

Many Other Towns in California Hit.

From Cedar to Shasta streets to the east of Euclid avenue is in ashes. In this sector about ninety homes were burned. Another area south of Cedar street and west of Euclid avenue was razed and forty homes destroyed. Homes in another area extending to Spring street are burned.

Merchants Move Valuables.
At 439 vast columns of flames at Allston way and Addison street gave forebodings that the entire Berkeley business district would go. Shattuck avenue merchants moved out their valuables.

Several fires started on Allston way from flying embers which were carried by the high north winds. Then suddenly the wind shifted and the gale turned into a light breeze off the sea, driving the flames backward into the district already burned and saving the business zone.

The change in the wind also helped the fight against the main blaze and by 7 o'clock the firemen had succeeded in gaining control of the conflagration on Ridge road and Hearst avenue on the north, and on Shattuck avenue on the west. On scenic avenue, which founded the fire for a distance on the south, the flames had died down earlier.

Processions of Refugees.
Refugees crowded all streets leading out of the burned area.
Men, women, and children, driven out of their homes in the fashionable residential section, appeared in processions, many of them carrying their most cherished possessions, making their way to places of refuge and safety. Some of them were in automobiles, some of them on foot until they could get to street cars.

In scenic avenue, the palms lining

Flame-Swept City

Five hundred houses were destroyed and damage amounting to millions was caused by fire which swept Berkeley, Cal., yesterday. Shaded portions of the map indicate the burned districts.

The thoroughfare were ignited by flying sparks. Fleeing refugees were endangered by these huge torches, which toppled into the street.

All the street car lines were paralyzed as soon as the fire started. Toward evening chaotic scenes which marked the afternoon became fever and order grew out of the excitement attending the destruction. Traffic officers were stationed at the corners of streets which fringed the fire zone and automobiles were diverted from the danger area. The arrival of soldiers from Fort Scott also aided in allaying the situation.

MANY TOWNS IN DANGER

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 17.—A score or more towns and villages in twelve California counties are either burning or in danger of fire from a series of forest and brush fires which are out of control.

The flames, both in the forest areas and in the cities, are being swept along on heavy winds.

Four hundred soldiers were hurried late today from Fort Scott here to Sonoma county to assist in battling fires.

In Placer, El Dorado, Solano, Napa, and eight other counties brush and forest fires burned over thousands of acres and destroyed ranch houses. The town of El Dorado was virtually surrounded late today by a fire that had destroyed the Hill hotel and several other buildings. The people of El Dorado, numbering about 150, were in flight. Telephone connection with El Dorado was interrupted and the countryside between El Dorado and Dismond Springs was on fire at last report.

The forest fire in the Santa Ynez mountain range, in Santa Barbara county, took a new lease on life and got beyond control of the exhausted fire fighters who have been working on it for three weeks. A call was sent out by forest rangers to Los Angeles for help. More than seventy square miles have been burned over.

Grain and pasture lands were laid waste by a fire which swept over seventy-five square miles of western Butte and eastern Glenn counties before the flames were brought under control.

Flames Skirt Village.
In Marin county a forest fire passed along the Bolinas ridge to within four miles of Fairfax before the wind began to die down, and fire fighters expressed the hope that the flames would be stopped.

Russian river summer resort towns were threatened and some of them destroyed. Guerneville at one time was surrounded on three sides by a forest fire that began near the largest redwood grove near San Francisco. The population of Guerneville were prepared to leave their homes and had placed their valuables in a boxcar which was being held by the North-western Pacific railroad for emergency.

The Southern Pacific company here was advised by its agent at Winters tonight that a new forest fire which broke out this afternoon was sweeping over Ennis ridge and was burning fiercely about ten miles from Winters and fast approaching that town.

A total of 15,000 acres in the California national forest is on fire, according to a report issued here tonight by District Forester P. G. Redington.

Many Ranches Threatened.
Lakeport, Cal., Sept. 17.—The biggest forest and brush fires in the history of Lake county were threatening the destruction of ranches on the east side of Clear lake tonight. Hundreds of men from Lake and Mendocino counties are fighting the fires. Business in Lakeport and Upper Lake has been virtually suspended, with every available man at the fires.

Why Those Prettier Teeth?

They use a new way of teeth cleaning
Dainty people—millions of them—now combat the film

Wherever dainty people gather you see glistening teeth today. Cloudy teeth are rarer. Note what attraction those whiter teeth add to men and women.
Learn the way to get them. Accept this ten-day test. Millions now enjoy the benefits. Bring them to your home.

Film hides their beauty

It is film that keeps teeth cloudy—that vicious film you feel. Much of it resists the tooth brush, clings and stays. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it.

Soon that film discolors, then forms dingy coats which hide the luster of the teeth.

Film also causes most tooth troubles. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Under old methods, very few escaped troubles caused by film.

New discoveries made

Dental science has now discovered two effective ways to fight film, and has amply proved them out. One acts to disintegrate the film at all stages of formation. The other removes it without harmful scouring.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, but removes it with an actual far softer than enamel. Never use a harsh abrasive which contains harsh grit.

A new-type tooth paste was created to supply these methods daily. The name is Pepsodent. Leading dentists the world over have long been urging its adoption. Now careful people of some 50 nations use it every day.

Ceaseless protection

Research found other essentials. So Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, also its starch digestant. Those are Nature's agents for fighting acid and starch deposits on teeth. Pepsodent gives them manifold power.

Thus Pepsodent brings the teeth ceaseless protection, and without any harmful scouring.

You will see and feel

The results of Pepsodent are quickly seen and felt. They will amaze and delight you. One week will bring a new conception of what clean teeth mean.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the cloudy coats disappear.
Then you will realize that all in your home should daily use this method. Cut out coupon now.

GERMAN PEACE HOPES WANE AS FOOD RIOTS RAGE

Poincare Speech Ends Negotiations.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—Coinciding with the report that the Swiss border troops were being strengthened against a possible rush of Germans in case of an uprising, food riots broke out in the border town of Werra, in Baden, today. One was killed and eight wounded. The Swiss border guard were on the alert and prevented food rioters from entering the country.

Twelve were killed and many wounded in food riots at Bors, Silesia, on Saturday. Royalists and communists in Saxony are reported to have clashed and fifteen or more persons were injured.

Poincare Blocks Peace Path.
Chancellor Stresemann invited the foreign press representatives to a reception in the chancellery garden this afternoon, at which he, the state secretary, councilors, and other officials of Wilhelmstrasse spoke. Premier Poincare's speech on Sunday suddenly broke the Franco-German negotiations, according to statements of the various officials.

Chancellor Stresemann was asked by the Times if he intended to answer Premier Poincare or take any forward step towards resuming negotiations. Chancellor Stresemann replied he would neither answer nor make other moves.

One of Chancellor Stresemann's councilors said the situation was also particularly pessimistic because of Bavaria's opposition to the abandonment of passive resistance in the Ruhr and the growing industrial unrest.

"Time Is with French."
Premier Poincare can take his time, said the councilor. "Time is with him and against us. Today we hear that twelve were killed and many wounded in food riots at Bors, Silesia. We also hear of other food troubles. What we fear may break loose in from seven to fourteen days. The worst may happen while we delay in solving the Ruhr question. Karl Radek was right—Germany will be ruled by those who can feed the masses. Unless we solve the Ruhr question we cannot feed the masses."

The Bavarian situation was not cleared through the speech Sunday of the Bavarian premier, Von Knilling, who said Bavaria could not have the same confidence in the Stresemann cabinet as it did in the Cuno cabinet. Premier von Knilling again raised the bugaboo of a Red revolt, saying:

"Bavaria must watch that Germany shall not be conquered by Marxism and bolshevism, and Bavaria must guard the safety and order of the nation."

Baldwin to See Poincare.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
LONDON, Sept. 17.—[Tribune Radio.]—It is officially announced that Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin will leave Aix les Bains tomorrow. He will stay a couple of days in Paris on his way home and will pay a courtesy call on Premier Poincare, but whether this will lead to any conference between the two premiers is not known.

However, in view of the uncompromising tone of Premier Poincare's speech yesterday it is thought unlikely that there will be any use in discussing the Franco-German relations. The two premiers might talk, however, about the Italo-Greek and the Balkan situations.

LLOYD-GEORGE TO ESCHEW U. S. POLITICS IN TALKS

Sir Alfred Cope, secretary to David Lloyd George, war premier of Great Britain, was in Chicago yesterday attending for the latter's visit to Chicago on Oct. 18 and 17. He conferred with leading citizens and a committee of the Association of Commerce, and announced that Mr. Lloyd George will probably address several meetings while here. His principal speech will be before a large public gathering, which it is expected will be held in the Auditorium.

"Mr. Lloyd George asks me to say," said Sir Alfred, "that his visit to America is neither a political one nor is it to be a lecture tour. He has received some big offers to lecture, but he has turned them all down. So far as his visit being political, he will not tell you to chuck prohibition, nor will he tell you to keep it."

"But he will not talk of American politics. He may speak of European politics, but he will not mention yours." Mr. Lloyd George will arrive in New York on Oct. 1.

LOWDEN ASSAILS PLAN TO CURB SUPREME COURT

Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden last night attacked the proposal of Senator La Follette to limit the power of the U. S. Supreme court. The occasion was a speech at the Constitution Day banquet given by the Union League club and the Illinois society, sons of the American revolution, at Hotel La Salle.

Mr. Lowden and former Gov. Charles S. Deneen were the principal speakers at the exercises devoted to reestablishing reverence for the constitution in the hearts of every citizen. Mr. Deneen's talk was before the Hamilton club.

Address by Lowden.
After outlining the origin of the constitution, its benefits and privileges, Mr. Lowden said:

"The framers of the constitution knew that men who have been given power usually seek to extend that power. They feared that the government would tend to encroach upon that portion of the sovereign power of the people which the people had deliberately withheld from the government."

"If the new principle in government of granting only a limited sovereignty to the government were to be made effective, it should be to resist such encroachment. They therefore established the Supreme court of the United States."

"They gave to that great tribunal a power never exercised before by any judicial body—the power to declare void any act of the legislative or executive departments of the government which transcended the power which the people had conferred."

Hold Office for Life.

"In order to raise that court above the clamor and passion of the hour, its members were to be appointed and to hold office for life. When once they had taken their oath of office, they were to be absolutely independent of all other departments of government."

EX-SENATOR COLE, 101, OBSERVES NO 'DON'TS,' IMBIBES A LITTLE

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 17.—Cornelius Cole, formerly United States senator from California, one of the few living men who heard Abraham Lincoln deliver his Gettysburg address, was 101 years old today, and his descendants planned a quiet reception at his home here.

Senator Cole declared he felt better than he did when he was "only 100 years old."

"I felt rather old a year ago," he continued. "Perhaps it was because the phrase '100 years old' has such a venerable sound."

"I eat what I want to eat, three times a day. There are no 'don'ts' in my regimen."

"I have used alcoholic beverages temperately all my life."

PINCHOT BOOM GAGS SENATORS FROM KEYSTONE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Because of the prospect that President Coolidge and Gov. Pinchot both will be candidates for the Republican presidential nomination in 1924, Senator George Wharton Pepper (Rep., Pa.) and his colleague, Senator David A. Reed (Rep., Pa.), visitors at the White House today, announced that they would maintain strict neutrality in the political situation.

They were in conference with the President and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon; the Pennsylvania member of the cabinet, for an hour or more. The two senators issued this joint statement:

"We have no statement to make in regard to the Republican presidential nomination. If it be true, as rumored, that President Coolidge will consent to be a candidate for the nomination, and if it be also true, as likewise rumored, that Gov. Pinchot has presidential aspirations, a situation will develop upon which a senator from Pennsylvania ought not to express himself prematurely, or otherwise than after most serious reflection."

Immediately after President Harding's death political prophets began to mention Gov. Pinchot's name prominently in the lists of prospective candidates for the Republican nomination. It is understood here that Gov. Pinchot personally is reluctant to enter a contest for the nomination, but it is generally believed that Pennsylvania's seventy-eight delegates will go to the Republican convention instructed for the governor.

CHICK, BOBBY LEAD AMATEUR FIELD WITH 149

SOMETHING TO SHOOT AT

LAST golf again was the order of the day in the national amateur championship play at Flossmoor. Here are the two leading scorers:

BY JOE DAVIS.

At the end of a strenuous day, marked by plenty of fine golf, Bobby Jones of Atlanta and Chick Evans of Chicago were tied for the low medal score in the qualifying round of the national amateur championship play at the Flossmoor club yesterday. They were deadlocked with duplicate scores of 75-74-149, two strokes ahead of S. Davidson Herron of Essex, with 151, who was followed by the veteran Bill Fowmes of Pittsburgh, with 152, and Francis Ouimet, with 153.

Qualifying told in the crucial round, as few of these leaders are former champions, while Bobby Jones wears the national open crown.

Had Chick held a five foot putt on the home green, he would have topped the field. His failure to do this landed him a tie for first place for the third time. In 1909 he tied with Bob Gardner and Tom Sherman of Utica at the Chicago Golf club, and in 1912 he tied with Harold Hilton of England and won the playoff.

While no definite announcement has been made, it is expected that Jones and Evans will play off at thirty-six holes on Sunday. Get your tickets early and avoid the rush.

Gardner Out of Picture.

Through the morning the galleries had divided their attention between the famous pair, and when Bobby Jones reported with a card of 149, displacing S. Davidson Herron, was generally conceded that Chick was the only player who had a chance to beat him.

Bob Gardner, who led the field on Saturday, had passed out of the picture with an 82, and practically all of the possibilities had finished when Chick Evans and Willie Hunter drove off.

The gallery concentrated on this pair and as Chick opened with a birdie 4 and followed with three pars, interest was intensified. He reached the turn in 15, playing perfect, but the turning point in his triumphant match came at the tenth hole, where he hooked his second to the rough and was out short with a 4, which eventually netted him a 4.

Then at the short eleventh, in trying for a two to make amends for his earlier blunder, he found a trap to the left of the green. He essayed to putt and failed, and was lucky to nail a four.

Chick Misses Next.

Chick missed the next six holes in turn and needed one more to tie the redoubtable Bobby. His drive was for the home hole and was straight. His second, a long wooden shot headed straight for the pin, but caught the slope of the green and ran across to the other side, leaving him a long range putt. He was five feet from the pin for his final shot for temporary glory, but missed by a hair.

Following this the gallery crowded around the score board, speculating as to the last of the qualifiers and eventually six were tied for the last three places at 161. In the play-off Eddie Field of St. Louis, who failed to qualify last year; Russell Martin of Chicago, and T. B. Cochran of Wichita Falls, won the losers being A. D. Anderson of St. Louis, C. J. Dunphy of Columbia, and B. E. Barnard of Midlothian.

This outcome left eleven Chicagoans in the running, Boston having two and St. Louis two, with the rest scattered. Geographically the west has a great preponderance with twenty-three players as against seven from the east and two from the south, but as one of these latter is Bobby Jones, Dixie may be considered as having a squad.

Quimet Gets 73.

A foretaste of Indian summer prevailed when the players got away in the morning and it was the best day of the tournament.

It was cloudy later in the day, but during conditions hardly could have been more ideal. The greens were not so fast as on Saturday and were under to negotiate.

Heartbreaks, Failures and Brilliant Golf as Stars Qualify at Flossmoor

BY HUGH FULLERTON.

Ties, hard fighting, brilliant shots, and a battle among those who scored 161 for the double round furnished plenty of thrills on the final day of the qualifying round in the national amateur golf championship yesterday.

The only thing lacking was a gallery, only a few hundred fans turning out. Heartbreaks and failures by fractions of inches, triumphal comebacks after seeming defeats, and a tie between Chick Evans and Bobby Jones for the low qualifying scores were the high marks.

Golf form was justified because champions and ex-champions grabbed five of the low places and of the thirty-two who qualified all save three were the "eligibles" selected by the committee as the leaders of the amateur golfers.

Bitter Drive for Godchaux.

Of the failures the most bitter was that of Frank Godchaux, the brilliant youngster from New Orleans. With an eight and a nine coming in during his round yesterday, he fought it out and came to the eighteenth hole still gasping for breath and hoping to save himself for his misdeeds on two holes.

His drive was perfect, his second was on the green, and with the ball twelve feet away from the pin he stood to save himself and the honor of the south by sinking the putt. He tried bravely, the ball crossed the edge of the cup and curled a foot away, and he was eliminated.

The battle for the low qualifying was a brilliant one. Bobby Jones, who is the favorite to win this event, swept around the course in perfect form, then took a six at the eighteenth and finished with 149, daring any one to get close to it.

Chick took the dare, shot the first nine holes in 45, one under par, and then, with a big chance to win, started off the second nine with a six and a four, shooting rotten golf. He failed, saving himself by dropping long putts, and came to the eighteenth hole needing a four to win, but the best he could do was a tie.

The fact that Chick tied Jones brought gloom to Joe Stuart's cavalry, which was getting ready to order Gutzon Borglum to carve Bobby's profile alongside that of Lee on Stone Mountain.

But aside from all else, the greatest

TRIO OF GREAT TOE ARTISTS IN BIG TEN

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Although a trifle early to comment on the strength of the football teams which will struggle for sectional supremacy, at least three teams in the middle west—Michigan, Chicago, and Minnesota—will be well fortified in one important department, and that is punting.

Strangely, captains of these teams will be the punting, and all have shown to good advantage under fire. Earl Martineau, a great player last year, will boot the oval for the Gophers and Capt. Harry Kipke, the All-American halfback, will perform in the same role for Michigan, while Capt. Jimmy Foyt will place his foot against the leather for Chicago.

A first class punter is a most valuable asset to any football team, as every smart coach knows. He is of greater value if he can run and pass from the punter's position, and this is exactly what the above mentioned trio of booters can do.

All Want Good Kickers.

With Chicago, Michigan, and Minnesota fortified in this important department, coaches of not only the other western conference teams, but eleven in all sections of the country are busily engaged developing reliable punters. Without a player who can boot the ball out of danger no team can be said to be in the running for a sectional title.

Although the Big Ten eleven have only started the campaign of preparation, indications are Iowa and Minnesota, which tied for honors last year, will have to play football in every contest to retain their laurels. Minnesota, with a seven game schedule, is going to be in the running for the title, as will Chicago.

At Minneapolis, Coach Bill Spaulding, looking for about the strongest Gopher eleven since 1916, when Wyman and Boston cut so many capers with their forward passing. It is understood that the Gopher coach has two backs the equals of Capt. Martineau, while some members of last year's team will have a task making this year's eleven.

Shift, Notre Dame-Army Game. Chicago, with four sterling backs in John and Harry Thomas, Capt. Foyt and Bill Zorn, should be just as strong as a year ago. Stagg has always been known for his ability to develop a line, and undoubtedly is working toward this end at the present time. Strong lines have made great reputations for halfbacks in the past, but a backfield player never made a line.

According to reports, the Notre Dame-Army game, scheduled for Oct. 13, may be shifted to Franklin field in Philadelphia. It was the original plan to play this game in one of the New York park parks, but this idea has been abandoned because permission will not be given for the use of the Polo grounds. The baseball men do not care to have their parks used for counter attractions when the world's series is on.

FIVE PURPLE TEAMS SEE ACTION ON GRID

Five teams trotted through formations last night in preparation for the Northwestern football campaign. Coach Glenn Thielathwaitte gave his first indication of the positions in which he would play members of his squad. Glenn Magnuson, veteran guard was moved to the center position, and Larry H. Horton, last season's center, was shifted to a tackle. All other veterans retained their former positions.

A pulled ligament in the left knee of Bob Kullanev, a husky tackle recruit, was the first casualty of the season, but it will be right in a day or so.

In reality the soil substitute is nothing more than fiber, partly decayed vegetable matter, mixed with a liberal helping of bone meal of high fertility value. There are several kinds of this fiber sold by almost all well stocked florists and seed houses. All of it, however, is more or less alike. The value of this fiber is due to the fact that it can be used in ordinary bulb bowls made without the drain hole in the bottom. Soil that is ordinarily used in bulb forcing would soon become waterlogged, soaked with water, and sour in these bowls. Bulbs will not grow in such soil, but the fiber is of such a character that it can be used in a solid bowl, thus eliminating the draining pan needed where soil is used. With the fiber a dozen or more small bulbs, like crocus and paper white narcissus, can be forced in a four inch bowl.

Although the Big Ten eleven have only started the campaign of preparation, indications are Iowa and Minnesota, which tied for honors last year, will have to play football in every contest to retain their laurels. Minnesota, with a seven game schedule, is going to be in the running for the title, as will Chicago.

At Minneapolis, Coach Bill Spaulding, looking for about the strongest Gopher eleven since 1916, when Wyman and Boston cut so many capers with their forward passing. It is understood that the Gopher coach has two backs the equals of Capt. Martineau, while some members of last year's team will have a task making this year's eleven.

Shift, Notre Dame-Army Game. Chicago, with four sterling backs in John and Harry Thomas, Capt. Foyt and Bill Zorn, should be just as strong as a year ago. Stagg has always been known for his ability to develop a line, and undoubtedly is working toward this end at the present time. Strong lines have made great reputations for halfbacks in the past, but a backfield player never made a line.

According to reports, the Notre Dame-Army game, scheduled for Oct. 13, may be shifted to Franklin field in Philadelphia. It was the original plan to play this game in one of the New York park parks, but this idea has been abandoned because permission will not be given for the use of the Polo grounds. The baseball men do not care to have their parks used for counter attractions when the world's series is on.

New York, Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Emphatic denial was made today by Promoter Tex Rickard that the Dempsey-Firpo film was tampered with after it was taken at the Polo Grounds last Friday night.

"Preposterous," exclaimed Rickard, when asked if it was true, as was reported along the great white way last night, that Manager Jack Kearns had forbidden Lesie D. Britton, who took the pictures, to leave intact that portion where it shows some helping hands pushing Dempsey into the ring after he had been either punched or punched through the ropes by Firpo in that never to be forgotten first round.

"Silly," Tex says.

"Silly? Just a lot of trash," Rickard continued. "Why would such a stand be taken by Kearns, when he appreciates as much as I do that if the picture were whole, especially that part showing Dempsey being helped into the ring, it would look more realistic and get us much more money, especially down in the States."

"What happened to that missing link of the picture?" Rickard was asked.

"O yes, I mean to tell you, was the answer. 'Benton tells me that, like everybody else, the cameramen became excited and they did not focus the machines just right when that soul stirring thing occurred. I understand that a cameraman from a morning paper happened to get in the way of the machine to take the Dempsey fall and he got a right-hand poke in the nose for baiting him."

DEMPSY-FIRPO QUIT N. Y.

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Jack Dempsey and Luis Angel Firpo are going to pull up stakes and blow this big town. Firpo is going to Canada tomorrow for a short spell, while the champion has everything packed for a hurried trip to Salt Lake, from where he will continue on to the coast.

Tex Rickard is already on the job and the chances are that he has both men signed up for another twist some time next year. Rickard said today that he proposed to build a mammoth arena for the next shot between Dempsey and Firpo to seat 125,000, and that he is sick and tired of those baseball parks for holding fight racket.

Ready in May.

It is expected that Rickard will have his arena ready for the early part of next May. He isn't quite sure about arranging a match between Firpo and Harry Wills during the interim. From what Rickard could gather today, Firpo will not meet Wills or any other fighter until he has had another shot at Dempsey.

According to Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, the champion is willing to give Firpo another bang at a date and a suitable location.

AUTO STARS TO RACE AT ROBY

Chit Woodbury, Bill Harris, and Al Cottle are leading contenders for the open car championship at Roby Speedway Sunday. Nathan Wrennister reigns supreme in his class, but it is expected Nichols, Roy Nonsman, and Curly Young will push him at the finish. The mile speedway is rated one of the fastest in the middle west, as it is used exclusively for auto racing and has an oil dressing which at this time of the year has been well worked into the track. The grounds are at 10th and Indianapolis avenues, just across the state line. There are three grandstands and large parking spaces from which the race may be watched.

CHAMPION JACK DEMPSY.

JACK DEMPSY, nearly beaten but ultimate victor over Luis Firpo, stands greater, more commanding in the pugilistic world than ever before.

In his bouts against Tom Gibbons and Firpo, Champion Jack has proved all the qualities a champion should possess. Against Gibbons he boxed with a past master of the art, traveled fifteen rounds at top speed, and was strong at the end.

Against Firpo he answered the oft-asked and never before answered question whether he could "take it." Jack took it from a man whom critics pronounce the hardest hitter in ring history. Jack took it, then showed power.

"Silly," Tex says.

"Silly? Just a lot of trash," Rickard continued. SMITH HAS EYE ON THAT BANTAM CROWN

Harold Smith of the stock yards, who is matched to meet Lew Hurley of New York in the main event of Jim Mullen's boxing show at Aurora on Friday night, settled down to strenuous training yesterday at Perrett's, while Hurley will be in Chicago tomorrow to complete preparation at the Arcade.

Although the New Yorker has a technical knockout over the local fighter, Smith is certain he can even up the score. In fact, he had to sacrifice close to $500 to get Hurley into the ring, as Manager Buck Montgomery instructed Promoter Mullen to meet Hurley's demands and take the difference out of Smith's end.

Smith Eyes Title.

Following his decisive victory over Bantamweight Champion Joe Lynch in the Aurora ring a short time ago, Smith has serious aspirations to win the world's 118 pound championship. He will be at the ring in New York to challenge the winner of the championship bout between Lynch and Joe Burman on Oct. 5.

Joe McCabe of Philadelphia and Hughie Dwyer, the Australian lightweight champion, who meet in the ten round semi-windup, worked at the Arcade where each boxed with sparring partners.

Ray Jeffries, the local Jewish 112 pounder, who clashes with Jimmy Russo, the Michigan flyweight champion, in another ten rounder, also worked at the Arcade, while other boxers on the card are hard at work.

Tickets are on sale at the usual places and Aurora prices of $3 and $5 will prevail.

Jack Rosenthal, the Leo Flynn light heavyweight, was in Chicago on his way to Omaha, where he will meet Tim Herman in a ten round bout on Thursday night. Jack worked at the Arcade and left for the battleground last night.

After winning three straight fights, Mary Forbes, local welterweight under the management of Larry Lichtenstein, will be matched with Jimmy Jones of the east in Youngstown the latter part of the month. Larney has received several other offers and may close some of the matches in a day or two.

Mike Irwin, Philadelphia welterweight, has placed himself under the management of Maurice Wasmata, who is anxious to match him with any of the road 137 pounders.

5,889 ANNE OAKLEYS IN 84,900 CROWD AT JACK-FIRPO FIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(Special.)—Eighty-four thousand nine hundred and ninety-five persons attended the world heavyweight championship match between Jack Dempsey, the champion, and Luis Firpo, at the Polo grounds last Friday night, of whom 78,011 paid $1,177,494. This left a total of 5,889 who crashed the gate one way or another. The government tax of 10 per cent amounted to $117,749. The 5 per cent New York state tax totaled $58,890. The net receipts, after these deductions, reached $1,070,365.

It was by far the largest sum of money ever paid to witness a boxing contest in this state.

PLAN RACE BETWEEN ZEV AND MY OWN

BY FRENCH LANE.

A $10,000 match race between the mighty Zev, winner of the Kentucky Derby and a half dozen of the other richest 3 year old stakes in America, and Admiral Gary T. Grayson's My Own is in the making, to be run during the Maryland state fair season at the Laurel track.

The victor would meet Papyrus, winner of the Epsom Downs Derby, in the international race at Belmont Park next month, according to the conditions.

Sinclair in City.

Officials of the Maryland track were trying to get the acceptance of Harry F. Sinclair, master of the Rancocas stables and owner of Zev, to the race yesterday. Mr. Sinclair was in Chicago, but left the city during the day without rejecting or accepting the race.

My Own has been recognized as Zev's only rival for the right to meet Papyrus ever since the international race was proposed. The Grayson colt's victory in the trial stakes at Belmont Park Saturday served to strengthen the claim.

Think He'll Accept.

Friends of Sinclair in Chicago last night were of the opinion that he would like to accept the challenge from the Grayson stable for the Maryland race, providing Zev is in condition to start at the time. Zev is engaged in the $50,000 Latonia Special on Oct. 6, however, and may be picked to meet Papyrus without a contest with My Own.

CORN STRENGTH HELPS WHEAT TO RESIST PRESSURE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

While wheat futures dropped to a new low on the present movement yesterday the market showed more resistance to pressure than of late strength in the northwest and in corn combined with short covering and buying by commission houses on resting orders around $1.91 1/2 for December absorbed the offering and made a rally toward the close of the day, being 1/4 cent lower to 1/2 cent higher, the former on September, which was $1.94 at the last, with December $1.92 1/2 at the last, with May $1.97 1/2 at the last.

Damage to the Illinois and Iowa corn crops by frost, which was ignored last week by traders, was the dominating influence in that market, and while the buying was largely by local professionals who were covering shorts, the close was 1/4 cent higher, with December leading. The latter finished at $1.94 1/2, and May at $1.97 1/2. September gained 1/4 cent and closed $1.94. Oats were 1/4 cent lower to 1/2 cent higher.

Buyers of corn, which was largely responsible for the sharp uptick was based on a long trip over northern Illinois via auto Sunday and came back impressed with the amount of damage done by the frost of Thursday night, and the fact that the frost was not so deep as it was in the past, and that the frost was not so deep as it was in the past, and that the frost was not so deep as it was in the past.

Oats held within a range of 1/4 cent and closed at the bottom in the face of the strength in corn. Trade was largely of a local character. An increase of 2,667,000 bu in the visible supply in the face of the relatively light movement, attracted some attention. Cash oats sold readily at unchanged premiums.

Rye Baited After Break.

Rye broke sharply early on a low sell, but when wheat rallied, it followed and closed at the top. Nothing was heard regarding export business. No. 1 on track sold at 30 over September. Large receipts of hogs, with lower prices at the yards, had a depressing effect on provisions. Commission houses sold January lard, partly on stop loss orders and with poor support, the finish was 1/4 cent lower. Hubs were $9.10. Cotton oil prices bought January lard on the break. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

The western wheat and corn was regarded as largely the result of an overvalued condition and not likely to last long unless there is a marked improvement in the general speculative and export buying. The latter was better than reported early in the day. At the last it was said that the short interest had been cut down, leaving the market weaker.

Reports from Winnipeg said that Canadian farmers were marketing more than 4,000,000 bushels of wheat daily and that they are expected to sell freely as long as the weather conditions permit. Considerable of the wheat is being consigned and the balance stored and held for higher prices. Part of the arrivals at Winnipeg are being applied on previous sales and so far there has been no great pressure. After the sales are filled up, increased pressure is expected.

Local interests were good buyers of December and May wheat on the high here, and there was liberal clearing of spreads between the two markets. Local interests bought May and sold December at 5¢ to 5 1/2¢ difference.

Matt E. Holpuch yesterday took title to 507 feet of vacant on the west side of Drexel, between 52nd and 53rd, and 328 feet on 52nd and 378 feet on 53rd. Oscar C. Hagen sold it to him for $200,000. Joseph A. Holpuch & Co. intend erecting $1,000,000 worth of apartment buildings in the near future.

The Irving Park building, containing a theater, hotel, stores, and lodge hall, was sold by Michael Tauber, auctioneer, for the Chicago Title and Trust company, receiver, to Henry J. Meris for $200,000, subject to incumbrances totaling $151,000. The sale was made in connection with a proceeding by Attorney Lewis F. Jacobson on behalf of over fifty bondholders in the Irving Park Building corporation. This is an echo of the James A. Hool management of the property.

The Jewish Educational Center, now at 428 Grand boulevard, has bought the 7217 at 6104-65 Woodlawn, from Clara T. Akeley for $21,000 and will erect a three-story building, to become its main building. The present Grand boulevard center will become a branch. The Woodlawn building will be three stories and contain twenty classrooms, lecture hall, social parlors, a library, a large auditorium, and a gymnasium. Mark Levy & Co. were brokers.

Henry P. Bloomfield has sold three flat buildings, containing eighty-seven apartments, at 7231-31 Phillips, to Frank T. Stuyvaert for a reported $500,000, subject to $150,000. Bloomfield, Rockwell & Lettman & Levinson were attorneys.

Twenty-one permits were issued yesterday with a total valuation of $454,000. They included:

WHEAT EXPORTS UP 600 PER CENT SINCE WORLD WAR

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—(Special.)—The average pre-war exports of wheat grain from the United States amounted to $7,500,000 bushels a year, with an annual average value of $10,000,000, and exports of flour averaged $1,000,000 barrels, with an average value of $1,000,000, according to a statement given out today on world trade in agricultural products by the department of commerce.

Reflecting some of the shifts in trade since the war, the statement shows that the average wheat grain exports during the last three calendar years has been $21,000,000 bushels, with an average annual value of $12,000,000, while exports of flour averaged $1,200,000 barrels, equivalent to about $1,200,000 bushels of grain, with an average value of $12,000,000.

The value of wheat exports, therefore, during the last three years has been over 200 per cent greater than pre-war, and that of flour 100 per cent greater. In 1922 the value of exports of wheat was 360 per cent greater than pre-war and that of flour 60 per cent greater, showing that wheat exports are growing much more rapidly than flour exports.

Two Men Shot and Killed in Beer Runners' War—Fire Ravages Berkeley, Cal.

HOW VICTIMS WERE TRAPPED. Upon this photo of Lavin street and Garfield boulevard the artist has drawn two cars. The one in front was the Ford in which George Meeghan and "Spot" Bucher were riding. The one behind carried the members of rival beer gang. They riddled the Ford from behind with their bullets and kept on firing as they passed the car.

HOW VICTIMS' CAR WAS RIDDLED. Close-up view of the Ford which carried the two men slain on south side. So many bullets were poured into the little car that the faces of Meeghan and Bucher were unrecognizable.

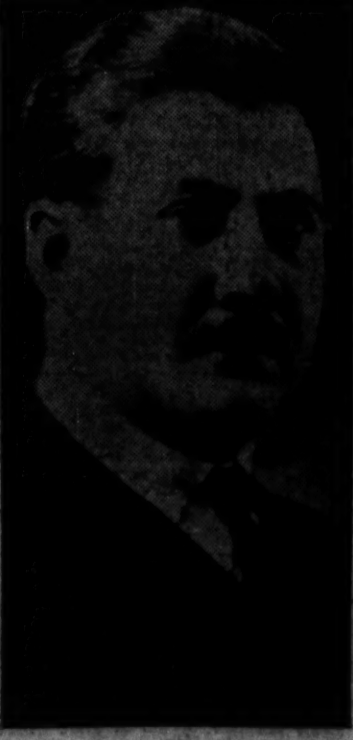

SAW SLAYING. Harold Iglowitz, 13, was witness to beer war murder.

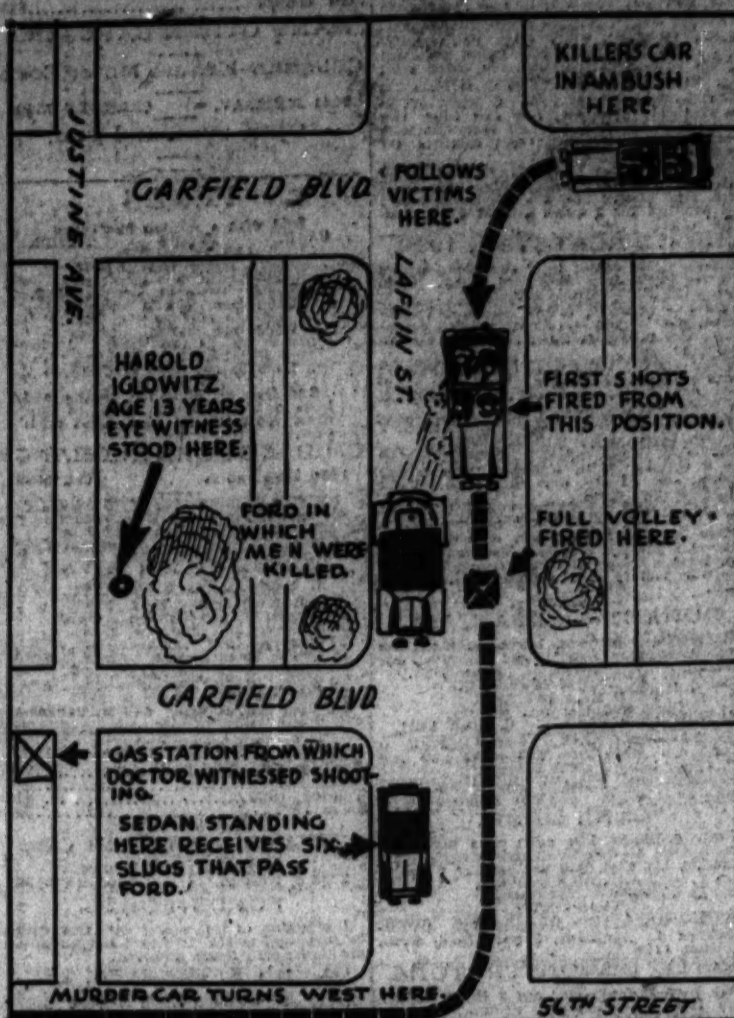

DRAWN BY MORBID INTEREST. Shortly after the bodies of Meeghan and "Spot" Bucher, who was slain with him, had been taken to the undertaking parlors, the sidewalks across the street and in front of the place were packed with folks curious to see and hear all that was going on.

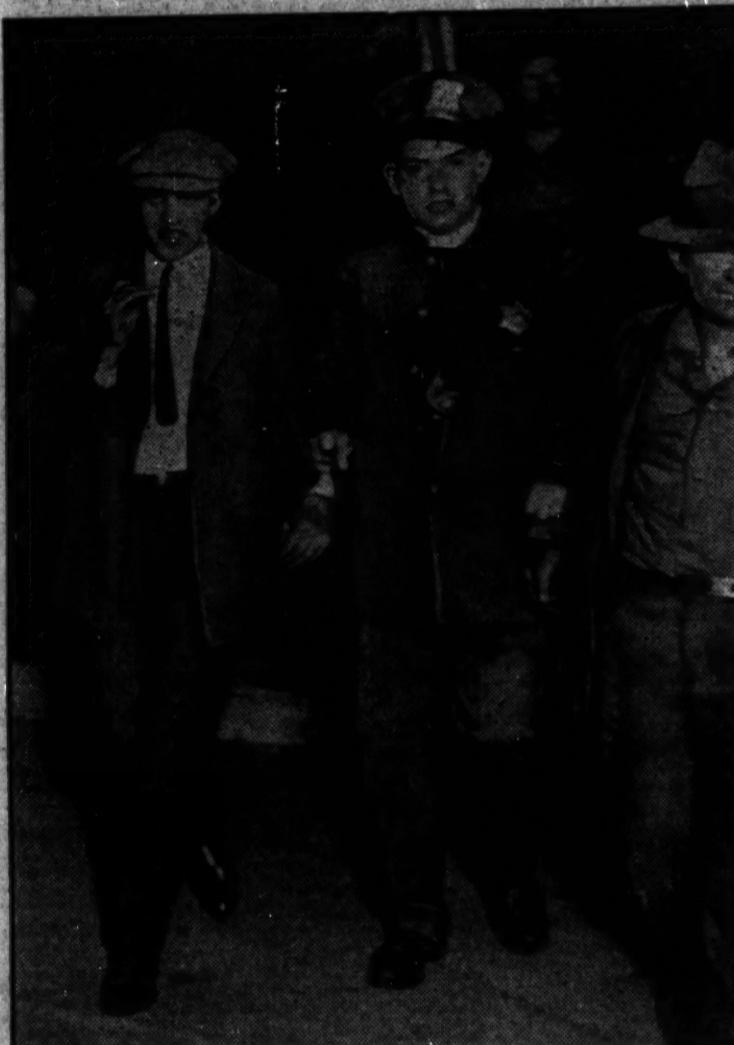

DECIDING TO SEIZE CORFU. Premier Mussolini, Fascist leader of Italy, and his cabinet were photographed during Italy's break with Greece. Mussolini is at the head of the table.

HEARD SHOOTING. Dr. C. M. Martin rushed to death car and found men dead.

SCENE OF AMBUSH AND SLAYING. This diagram shows in detail how the beer gang gunmen lay in wait for the O'Donnell factionists and killed them.

SLAIN. George Meeghan, beer runner, is killed by rivals of O'Donnell gang.

TRACTION EXPERT. James Dalrymple, head of Glasgow, Scotland, tramways comes here.

REARRESTED. deputy Sheriff Dan Mc... under bonds for O'Donnell killing, seized again.

TAKEN BY DEATH. Dr. C. F. Mills, eminent scientist, victim of pneumonia.

TAKEN BY DEATH. Dr. C. F. Mills, eminent scientist, victim of pneumonia.

FLAMES DESTROY 60 BLOCKS OF BEAUTIFUL BERKELEY. The California university city was swept by flames last night which started in the Contra Costa county hills. For a time the university buildings were in danger. The panicle of the school is seen standing 302 feet high in this view of the city looking out on the Golden Gate.
